NATIONAL UNION TICKET

FOR GOVERNOR

ALFRED DOCKERY.

Of Richmond County.

FOR THE SENATE,

COL. C. L. HARRIS.

OF RUTHERFORD.

FOR THE COMMONS

GEN. G. W. LOGAN

NATHAN SCOGGIN

[Election, Thursday October the 18th]

To-morrow is the election, every man turn out, be at the polls soon and work for one day as you should and victory is ours. Be on your guard the destructive are making their efforts in this State, they are attempting to place North Carolina in a condition from which nothing can come, but confiscation, negro suffrage and reorganization, we conjure you by all that is dear and dear to freedom not to be lulled by these men. You well know that they told you to go for secession and it would make the South a power whose magnitude the world would envy, but what was the result? One of the most bloody wars the American continent ever beheld, and now what is our condition? It is one of degradation. When during the war there was a chance to have compromised our difficulties and saved our property, in y said no, the last man and the last dollar, or the independence of the Southern Confederacy. We well know which we obtained. Now these same men come forward and say, we are the men to settle the difficulties, we can get North Carolina into the Union.

Well they have been in power for the last nine months, what have they done? If we could say nothing, it would be much better for us than it is, but no, they have assisted to make the breach between North Carolina and the Union wider and wider, and to-day the prospect for a speedy restoration of the Union is worse than it was at the surrender of Lee's army.

There is now before the citizens of North Carolina two choices, the late elections in the North having resulted against us, either to accept the Howard Amendment and go back to the Union or reject it, and take the radical plan of reorganization, confiscation and negro suffrage.

Jonathan Worth, John R. Logan and M. O. Dickerson stand on one side while on the other side you will find Alfred Dockery, C. L. Harris, G. W. Logan and N. Scoggin, then choose you which you will vote for and remember that perhaps on this election will turn whether our property shall be confiscated or not.

There are but two parties at the South, the true Union Party and those who oppose going into the Union unless they can get everything they desire.

Every man, who opposes going into the Union, will vote for Worth and the candidates who support Worth, we say to you then go the polls and work when you get there, the destructive will vote for their men, therefore don't agree to swap votes with them, but vote the full Union ticket.

As we learn that Mr. John R. Logan denies making the assertion, that he would almost a soon secession, famine and pestilence as to see the democratic rule the Country, We append the following certificate from men who are well known to the citizens of this County, as proof that he did make these assertions.

Duncans Creek,
Oct. 10, 1866.

I certify that at Green's old field when J. R. Logan, Esq., and Dr. C. Mills were canvassing this District for the Senate, that he (Logan) read about this language, "That he had about as leave see or have war, pestilence and famine as to see the Dissolution of the Union party."

Signed
MIRIAM PAER,

Cain Creek,
Oct. 4, 1866.

I am called on by Col. Harris to state what Mr. J. R. Logan expressed in a speech made when he was a candidate for the Senate against Dr. C. Mills at Baldridge's old field, which is about as follows: "That he (Logan) would have war, pestilence and famine as to see the democratic rule."

Signed
JOSEPH M. WALLACE.

Camp Creek,
Oct. 4, 1866.

Being called upon by Col. Harris to make a statement in regard to what Mr. J. R. Logan said in a speech at Baldridge's old field, I make the following statement, viz: "That he (Logan) said that he had about as soon have war, pestilence and famine as to see the democratic rule." This was as a general statement.

Signed
THOMAS BOON.

First Road,
Oct. 10, 1866.

I certify that at Baldridge's old field when J. R. Logan, Esq., and Dr. C. Mills were canvassing for the Senate, I heard Mr. Logan use about this language, "That he had about as leave see or have war, pestilence and famine as to see the democratic rule."

Signed
WM. McFARLAND.

We have received the October number of the "Crescent Monthly" published by Messrs Evelyn & Co., 90 Camp St. New Orleans and Wm B. Smith & Co. Raleigh. We take pleasure in recommending this Magazine to the public, as it is truly a southern work. Now is a good time to subscribe as this number is the 4th of the 1st volume.

We suppose the back numbers could be furnished. We hope friend W. B. S. will send us the back numbers.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—We would call particular attention to the advertisement of Messrs Sumner & Clark, and would say from actual observation that no more clever and fair dealing firm can be found.

They have everything in their line of business, and will sell at low rates, call and examine their goods, and we are satisfied that you will not accuse us of puffing too much.

THE NORTH-CAROLINA ELECTIONS.

PHILADELPHIA Oct. 10, P. M.—As far as heard from (Geary's majority will be about 15,000. Republicans gain two members of Congress.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10, P. M.—The total vote in this city foots up 30,000. An increase of 3,000 votes over any previous election.

Exposition, rep., is elected over Pendleton by 900 majority.

Indianapolis, Oct. 10 P. M.—Returns come in steady. The State ticket is generally conceded to the Republicans by about 15,000.

In the Sixth District the Democrats gained 500 votes on the vote of '64, but Colburn, rep., is elected.

The Republicans claim eight Congressmen and a majority in both branches of the Legislature.

The Recent Elections.

The elections on Friday last resulted, as was expected, in a triumph for the Republicans in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Iowa.

In Pennsylvania the majority for Gen. Jno. W. Geary for Governor, over Mr. Clymer, the Democratic candidate, is between 20,000 and 25,000. Pennsylvania is entitled to 24 members of Congress.

The present members stand 16 Republicans, 8 Democrats. It is known that 17 Republicans have just been elected to the 40th Congress, which will convene after the 4th of March next; and the Washington Chronicle claims a gain of three Republicans, which would give 19 to 5 Democrats.

The Pennsylvania Legislature is claimed to be Republican by two-thirds, which ensures a Republican Senator in Congress in place of Mr. Cowan Democrat.

In Ohio the Republican majority on the State ticket is 45,000 to 50,000. Of the 19 members of Congress 17 are Republicans. No change from the present Congress.

The Republican majority in Indiana is about 20,000. No change in the members of Congress, though some of the districts are said to be in doubt.

In Iowa all the Republicans are elected to Congress by large majorities, and the State has gone Republican by some 35,000 majority.—standard

The Adventure of Two Fenians—Their Escape from Toronto Jail.

Day before yesterday two Fenians passed through this city who had been prisoners in Toronto Jail, with some fifteen others. They were originally from Indianapolis, but were members of the company of Captain Fitzpatrick, of Nashville. At the time of their capture they were on picket, and were forgotten in the Fenian retreat from Ridgeway to Fort Erie. After their capture they were put into Toronto Jail. Seventeen were in one apartment, all of whom escaped, except one who was sick with cholera and fever.

One of the prisoners knew the jailer in Cork county, Ireland, and they were furnished with a new carrying knife by the jailer's sister. They cut through two floors after two days' work, and found themselves in a walled cellar. It took them five days to pick the mortar out of the stones. After escaping they followed the railroad southward towards the States. After traveling a few days they were nearly starved, and at daylight two of them obtained a couple of hands and a bucket of crackers from a friendly Irishman.

After this they separated, and all succeeded in getting to the United States. They report that hand bills were stuck up every place, offering rewards for their apprehension. They were nearly captured several times by the troops. While in prison they were fed on bread and water, and their cell was in a horrible condition. One of the prisoners died in the cell, and the body was not removed for twenty-four hours. It was their opinion that nothing would be done to discharge, but with Irish courage determined to try to escape.

[From the Charlotte Democrat]

For our own part, we can say that rather than have our State government abolished, negro suffrage taken from us, the property of our people confiscated or depreciated on by squads of soldiers, and the women and children started to death or rendered homeless and homeless, we would prefer the adoption of the proposed amendment. We are as deeply interested in the welfare of the country as any man in North Carolina we expect to live and die.—Charlotte Democrat

That is about what Gen. Dockery's letter may be construed to mean. No one we presume, would differ on that simple proposition of a choice between two evils. But the Democrat has Gen. Dockery pondered the whole question? We think not.—Raleigh Sentinel

If Gen. Dockery occupies the position that we do, we beg permission to modestly say that Gen. Dockery is right. But in forming an opinion as to the right course to pursue, we do not take into consideration Gen. Dockery's or any other man's position—we look at the situation as it is, and calculate what may happen hereafter; and after mature reflection we repeat that, if the President fails in the Northern elections to secure power sufficient to maintain or enforce his policy, we would prefer the adoption of the proposed amendment rather than run the risk of being left to the mercy of the next Congress, and having confiscation enforced, a provisional Governor appointed, and our country garriooned and plundered by military bands.

We do not intend to quarrel with any one about this matter. We are a friend of the President's policy—we have done all in our power to strengthen that policy—but suppose we cannot get what we want, what then? Is it not our duty to accept of the least of two evils? We are a conquered people, and our conquerors have it in their power, if we do not accept of the proposed amendment, to compel us to submit to Mr. Thad. Stevens' scheme of co-education, negro voting, &c., which degrade and ruin every man, black and white, in the South.

It will be remembered that in 1861 we said we would not do so, and in 1865 the people of the South generally declared that they would never submit to subjugation and such treatment. But it is certain that we have been compelled to do the very things we said we would not do; and many who talked most and loudest about not submitting were the first to "leave in." These things, considering the uncertainty of the time, and our past experience, we suggest that it is premature and imprudent to declare what we will do and what we will not do. Every one of our public men should remain unpledged, and be free to do what he may honestly believe will save his constituents from trouble and promote their welfare.

No one ought to predict, as some candidates are now doing, that he will never consent to the adoption of the proposed amendment. We are not aware that Gov. Worth has expressly said he will not, under any circumstances, agree to the amendment. We hope he will not say so, and we beg him and all others to reflect on the matter and not make pledges that they may hereafter find impossible to maintain without bringing complete ruin upon the State.

We do not like the amendment, but if we can do no better, we would advise its adoption.—While we do not propose to discuss its merits, we will make a short reply to the following questions of the Raleigh Sentinel:

"Where is it said in that amendment, that if the Southern States adopt it, that that will settle all disputes and bring about reconciliation? Where is it so declared in the action of Congress? What prominent man in the Republican party has said anything like it? * * * Does the Tribune, or the Times, or Forney's Chronicle, say so? Not a word of it. Does any Senator or Representative say so, who voted for the Howard amendment? Who is it so and? No one."

In reply to the above, we copy the following extract from Address to the American people recently issued by Horace Greeley, Editor of the N. Y. Tribune, and 16 others who speak for the radical party:

"That plan [the Constitutional amendment] has been matured. It has passed the Senate by 33 to 11 and the House by 13 to 36. It is now fairly before the country having already been ratified by the Legislatures of several States and Tennessee has been formally restored to all the privileges she forfeited by rebellion, including representation in either House of Congress. And the door thus passed through stands invitingly open to all who still linger without."

So the Sentinel will see that the Tribune and several prominent men of the Republican party declare that the adoption of the amendment will bring about reconciliation.

BISMARCK AND THE JEW.—Out of Nikolburg comes the story of a Prussian soldier having been vigorously thrashing a Jewish resident when Count Bismarck happened to pass. "What, then, has he done?" asked the Count, as the soldier stopped to salute him. "He was abusing the Prussians," replied the soldier. "Not so," cried the man; "I spoke well of the Prussians—only of Bismarck." The uttering of the bystanders revealed to the unhappy Jew the mistake he had made.—"Let him go," said Bismarck quietly; "greater men than he have done that."

Dr. Mason once said to an infidel who was scoffing at Christianity because of the misconduct of its professors. "Did you ever know an upstart to be made because an infidel went astray from the path of morality?" This infidel admitted that he had not. Then don't you see, said Dr. M., "that by expecting the professors of Christianity to be holy, you admit it to be a holy religion, and thus pay it the highest compliment in your power!" The young man was silent.

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT Day of Thanksgiving Appointed.

The following proclamation has been issued by the President of the United States:

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, has been pleased to vouchsafe to us, as a people another year of that national life which is an indispensable condition of peace, security, and progress. That year has, moreover, been crowned with many peculiar blessings. The civil war that so recently closed among us, has not been anywhere reopened.

Foreign intervention has ceased to excite alarm or apprehension. Intransigent silence has been benignly mitigated. Domestic tranquility has improved. Sentiments of conciliation have largely prevailed, and the altitudes of loyalty and patriotism have been widely received. Our mining industry has been richly rewarded, and we have been allowed to extend our railroad system far into the interior recesses of the country, while our commerce has resumed its customary activity in foreign seas.

These great national blessings demand a national acknowledgement.

Now, therefore, I, A. A. Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby recommend that Thursday, the 20th day of November, next, be set apart and be observed everywhere in the several States and Territories of the United States by the people thereof, as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God.

With due remembrance that "the humble doth every man speak of His honor," I recommend also that on the same solemn occasion, they do humbly and devoutly adore Him to grant to our National Councils and to our whole people harmony and wisdom, and to all men peace and good will in the ways of all men.

In offering these National Thanksgiving prayers and supplications, we have the Divine assurance that "the Lord remembereth King forever; them that are weak shall be guided in judgment, and such as are gentle shall He learn His way. The Lord shall give strength to His people, and the Lord shall give to His people the blessing of peace."

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this eighth of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred, and [SEAL] sixty-six, and of the Independence of the United States, the ninety-first.

ROMANCE OF WAR—The Tallahassee Sentinel relates the following:

"During the late war, a corporal in Wheeler's famous cavalry corps obtained a young recruit for the company to which he belonged, and for nine months fought bravely and endured hardship and privations which would have done credit even to the most hardened veteran to have undergone. At the battle of Bentonville, in North Carolina just prior to the surrender of General Johnston's army the corporal was struck by a musket ball, fell from his saddle, and instantly expired. The young recruit immediately dismounted and clasping the lifeless form that lay on the ground declared that he was her husband! Said proved to be a young woman who lived in North Carolina, but who having been despoiled of her home by the "Great Fire Arrow," had determined to enlist in the army and remain during the war with her husband. Now that he was dead, she expressed a desire to return to her friends, and was allowed to do so.

THE PRINTER'S LITANY—From want of gold, from wives that sold, from maidens old, by sharper "scold"—reserve us!

From fopish sneers, mock auctioneers, woman's tears—deliver us!
From singing flies, from coal black eyes, and babies' cries—protect us!
From seedy coats, protest d notes, and leaky boats—protect us!
From creaking doors, a wife that snores, and all such bores—defend us!
From shabby hats, and torn cravats, and flying breeches—save us!
From the landlord's hand, a greedy band, now infesting our land—preserve us!

From a "solid take," which is our fate, so-until to partake—henceforth deliver us!
From making "pi," which does annoy and, tempers try—prevent us!

AN INCIDENT IN A RAILROAD CAR.—"Monster—don't afraid of sitting on your criminality, you're a fine young lady—O, never mind, sir, it's of no consequence, you can't hurt it." Minister—No, ma'am: it's not that but the thing hurts me.

MYSTERIOUS MURDERS.—We learn from a gentleman living in the neighborhood of Scutcheon, Pitt county, that two very mysterious murders have been committed in that vicinity lately. It seems that a man named Patrick was shot and killed on Tuesday night last, under what circumstances our informant failed to give us. On Wednesday night a party of some dozen or more men went to the house of Jesse Hart, of the firm of Cannon & Hart, well known in this city, took him out of his house, and after carrying him a short distance, shot and left him. No clue has been obtained as to the parties committing either murder, but it is supposed that the last murder had some connection with the first one. A fine double barreled gun was left near where Hart's body lay, and may lead to the identification of some of the parties engaged in the affair.—Newbern Commercial

An old lady, recently dead, in portland, made a vow at the age of thirty five that she would never speak another word in her life, and kept it for the remaining thirty-five years that she lived. What an example to her sex did the blessed old lady give!

NEW PHYSIOGNOMY or "Signs of the "HUMAN FACE DIVINE." One elegant volume, with nearly 805 pages, and 1,000 illustrations. By S. R. WELLS, Editor PARANOR-MOLOGICAL JOURNAL. Price, post paid, $5. Address FOWLER & WELLS, No. 389 Broadway, are shown to be "signs of character."

In no other work is so much light thrown upon the character and destiny of mankind as in this, or the distinctive traits of nations and tribes so clearly pointed out. Portraits of distinguished persons of ancient and modern times, with biographical sketches and description of character, and given, DIVINES, ORA-TORS, STATESMEN, WARRIORS, ARTISTS,
POETS, PHILOSOPHERS, INVENTORS, SURGEONS,

Large Capacity, strength and unparalleled speed, simplicity and completeness of operation
are qualities peculiar to
THE NONPAREL

Washing Machine

It is a Squeezing Machine constructed on strictly mechanical principles, and the experience derived from five years extensive use in families, hotels and public institutions, proves it to be of lasting value to the purchaser.

The manner of operating the Nonparel, by rotary motion acting on a crank-shaft (with balance-wheel) which moves the plungers alternately, is the simplest, least laborious and most powerful that can be devised for the purpose, and accomplishes the work with the greatest rapidity and the least possible labor.

The great speed with which the machine performs work will be understood from the statement that it is geared to give six strokes of the plungers for one turn of the handle or, when worked leisurely, about four hundred strokes in a minute. Safety to the fabric washed is insured by the entire absence of rubbing.

A girl or boy of fifteen can work the machine and do a week's washing for a family of six or eight persons in two to three hours time; and it may be relied on to cleanse the clothing thoroughly, without assistance from hand rubbing.

Selected Poetry.

THERE'S WORK ENOUGH TO DO.

The blackbird early leaves his nest
To meet the smiling morn,
And gather fragrant flowers for his nest
From upland, wood and lawn;
The busy bee that winnows its way
Mid sweets of varied hue,
At every flower would deem to say—
"There's work enough to do."

The cowslip and the spreading vine,
The daisy in the grass,
The snow-drop and the gentian,
Preach sermons as we pass.
The ant, within its craven deep,
Would bid us labor too,
And writes upon its tiny heap—
"There's work enough to do."

To have a heart for those who weep,
To rescue all the children deep
In ignorance and sin;
To help the poor, the hungry feed,
To give him food and cheer,
To see that all can write and read,
"Is work enough to do."

The time is short—the world is wide,
And much has to be done;
The wondrous earth, and all its pride,
Will vanish with the sun.
The moments fly on lightning wings,
And life's uncertain too;
We've none to waste on foolish things,
"There's work enough to do."

The planets, at their maker's will,
Move onward in their race,
For Nature's wheel is never still,
Progressive as the stars.
The leaves that flutter in the air,
And summer's breeze woo,
One solemn truth to man declare—
"There's work enough to do."

Who then can sleep when all around
Is active, fresh and true?
Shall Man—creation's lord—be found
Less busy than the bee?
Our courts and alleys are the field,
If men should search them through,
That best the sweets of labor yield,
And "work enough to do."

FINANCIAL "UNCERTAINTY."—The annual report of the Federal Government is considerable over Five Hundred Millions of Dollars per annum: its expenditures, including interest on its Public Debt, and the payment of One Hundred Millions of the principal of its bonds, are considerably less than Four Hundred Millions. In other words, we can pay every current charge against the Treasury this year, and yet extinguish more than a fifteenth part of our Public Debt.

A great storm descended upon the country last week, visiting the Western States with especial fury; but its effects have been more or less felt. From the Missouri River to the Atlantic the first dispatches of the outburst of several railroads that were disarranged. The Ohio River was frozen in twenty-four hours, and several leading out of Cincinnati was cut off or obstructed. It would be impossible to detail the towns under water, for this would lead us along nearly every river in the West.

SELLING A BIRTHRIGHT.

"Father, said Charley one day, 'Mr. Reed is going to take the whole school to Union hill on the Fourth, and we are to have a dinner and a grand good time. We are to choose a captain out of the first class, and to-morrow is election day.'"

"For whom are you going to vote?"

"Mr. Reed, the tallest fellow in school; and the best boy, too I think. But George has gone over to the opposition."

"How's that, George, my boy? Who is your candidate? Let us hear the other side."

"Chester said George. 'I don't see why he won't make as good a captain as Morton.'"

"He is not so good a scholar," said Charley; besides, he swears sometimes, and then his buying up voters, and I think that is mean."

George flushed up a little, but made no reply.

George said his father, I want you to tell me whether Chester has given you anything to influence your vote?"

George hung his head and was very slow to reply; but there was no escape from his father's question, and at last he answered, I broke my new bat yesterday, playing base-ball, and he gave me his, if I would promise to vote for him.

And did you promise?

Yes, father.

You were wrong, my boy. Your vote is your birthright. Not very long ago when we read how Esau sold his birthright for a mess of pottage, you thought him very little of a man. And now you have sold yours for a second-hand bat! You have sold yourself, your influence, as far as it goes, to elect a boy who, by taking unfair means to secure this honor to himself, unfit for it and shows also that he has reason to believe that a majority of the school think some one else more worthy. Now, as you look over the whole affair, do you not think it dishonorable to both of you?"

Yes, answer George, I did not think it was so much matter.

Why, if you can be bought over with a bat when you are a boy, you may be bought over with an office or with money, when you are a man. I want my sons to be above taking a bribe, or selling the rights of their manhood.

What ought I to do, father?

Take the bat back to Chester, and tell him how the matter appears to you on further consideration. If he has any honor in him, he will release you from our promise, if he has not, he can hold you to it, and you must keep your word, and I am sorry for you. And take care not to be caught in such a false position again.

George wished the old bat was at the bottom of the sea a dozen times as he carried it back with shame to Chester. He was laughed at, reproached, and held to his promise, as he expected to be, and acquired such a contempt for his candidate's selfish want of principle that he was glad when he found himself on the losing side next day, and joined heartily in the cheers which the winners gave for Morton.—Independent.

PROSPECTUS OF THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER.

THIS standard Journal, founded more than half a century ago, has been reorganized with an able and active corps of editors, reporters, and correspondents. It is enlarged to 32 columns, and is published at a rate comparing favorably with any other first class paper. It has access to authentic sources of original intelligence in politics, commerce, science, and literature. The intimate intercourse between the founders of the National Intelligence and those men who represented the extremes of opinion which have culminated in the late war, proves the moderation and integrity which have characterized its course. This intercourse and respect embraced Webster, Calhoun, Clay, and Benton. It has received the confidence of all. The National Intelligence is conducted scrupulously upon the principles which have ever guided it. It has lived to feel the value of moderation and national fraternity, and rejoices to perceive that the American people respect them likewise.

The Intelligence will extend a cordial and sincere support to the beneficent policy of President Johnson. It will, as a special provision for the legal and social protection of the emancipated negro, as the several States may deem just and proper. Qualified by location and sentiment to maintain between the warring factions and the resources of the nation, it will advocate and aid in transferring to the South those elements of capital and enterprise indispensable to the prosperity of every community.

To enable the Intelligence to fulfill its measure of usefulness, it respectfully asks the support to which its past moderation and sincere devotion to the common welfare entitle it. In this sense it is now offered to the public as a national Intelligence, which cannot be surpassed by any journal published in the National Metropolis.
